INTRODUCTION

Why Our Ships Give You the Best of the Inside Passage and Haida Gwaii

The coastline of British Columbia and Alaska undulates into bays, twists into archipelagos, and stretches down fjords that slice through mountain ranges.

This is wild geography. There are few roads. As a result, wildlife and nature thrive. We, in the few coastal communities, have a deep connection to the ocean.

To reach the richest areas, you must travel by water, as people have done for millennia.

Our tiny ships access a world closed to bigger ships. Our permits and First Nations protocol agreements, combined with our crew's local knowledge, give you exclusive reach to special areas, wildlife and people.

You Get the Locals' Best

First and foremost, this coast is our beloved home and you our very welcome guest. Everyone, from captain to chef, takes pride in showing you the best experiences we know. Often your crew are involved in ongoing coastal research, community building, or the care of our own ships. They're handpicked for their mastery and geniality. Expert mariners are happy to share their intimate understanding of coastal bathymetry and weather; chefs their approach to local specialties; naturalists their understanding not just of what you see but its context -- ecologically, socially, historically.

Personalized and Enriching

With just 8, 12 or 24 guests per trip, you travel as our friend, not part of a crowd to be managed. The proximity you will feel to the coast's mountains, forests and marine life is incomparable with any other form of cruising. Every moment is part of a real journey.

Enjoy the friendship of residents. Smell the sweet coniferous forest as you step ashore. Feel the rhythm of ship and ocean as you steer under crew's guidance, taste the flavour of huckleberries or freshly caught prawns, and hear a whale's sharp inhalation of breath before it dives.

Our purpose is to delight and inspire you, while also benefitting our ecosystems and social fabric. Care and attention to detail are at the heart of all we do.

Typical Activities

- » Rainforest walks
- » Beachcombing
- » Exploring by small boat
- » Wildlife viewing
- » Natural history interpretation
- » Coastal village visits
- » Beach campfire and star watching in dark skies
- » Cultural experiences and site visits
- » Photography
- » Kayaking (optional)
- » Hiking (optional; possibly one good hike on a trip)
- » Foraging (sea asparagus, berries, etc., some trips only)

Eco-Tourism is Regenerative

Our approach is to enhance, rather than take from, our home, to give you an exceptional experience that also leaves a legacy. Ever since our inception in 1986, we have celebrated, partnered with and funded nature conservation and communities where we operate.

Spontaneous Adventures

Our itineraries are flexible to give you the best experience possible; they are true open itineraries in the spirit of exploration and discovery. Come up to the helm, help spot whales, let us know your hopes for the trip. If you seek to explore in an authentic way, with the camaraderie of expert crew and guides, we look forward to welcoming you aboard.

Is Adventure Travel for You?

This is a trip for people with adventurous spirits. Our ships are beautiful and comfortable but if you seek urban or cruise ship amenities, including shows, shopping and 24-hour-a-day alcohol, this trip may not be for you.

Our office and our trips are located in the traditional, unceded territory of dozens of First Nations. We encourage you to visit the Ecotourism page on our website to learn about this.

Welcome Aboard

A Letter from Kevin & Maureen: Our Coastal Community

Dear Friends,

We are pleased to introduce you to the wonder and soul of the spectacular coastline we consider ourselves fortunate to spend our lives on.

We know that your holiday time is precious and we are grateful you have chosen to spend it here.

Although in geological time, Maple Leaf Adventures' 38 years of history is a blip, in our time, it has enabled us to build deep, meaningful connections with places and people all along the coast's stunning breadth.

We sometimes say that the coast is like a small town—a 1,000 kilometre-long small town. Whether we're in Sitka or Waglisla or Ganges, we share a marine-based culture. We're connected even when we can't see one another – by the usual methods, by our travels and visits ashore, and also by the marine radio that's a lifeblood of the coast.

And we're connected by our pride in doing great work to keep our coastal economies, nature and communities alive and healthy.

Maple Leaf Adventures owners Maureen and Kevin

All of us—from our crew who maintain and operate our three coastal ships, the guides who steer you to that special wildlife spot, the elders who share their time, the conservation scientists who receive our support, to the folks in the office making arrangements—welcome you to the Maple Leaf Adventures family and, by extension, to our coastal community.

Thank you.

Kevin Smith and Maureen Gordon
Co-Owners

About the Itineraries

In each destination that follows, we list the sample itinerary for each trip showing the typical route and events. Note, that our itineraries are flexible, to accommodate the actions of wildlife, weather and special events we encounter. Our expert crew know how to combine the highlights of each area, and in the right order, to provide the best possible trip each time.

OVERVIEW

“We were warmly welcomed by Haida people who introduced us to their culture and traditions, and led us on tours of their historic sites. We also had great fun kayaking, fishing for rock bass and harvesting sea asparagus. Life on the Cascadia was pure luxury in terms of comfort, gourmet dining and amazing service.”

- JMR on TripAdvisor, 2019

Explore ancient ecosystems, wildlife, Haida culture and monumental art on our classic trip.

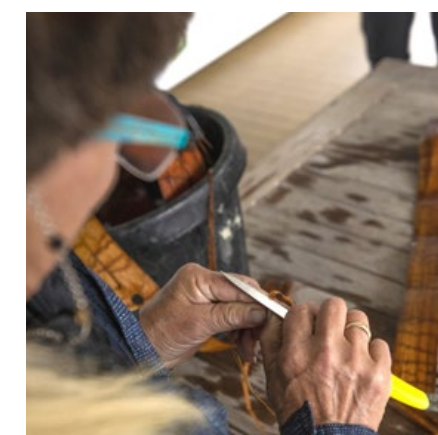

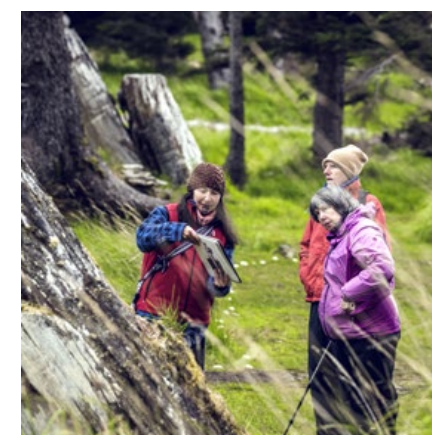

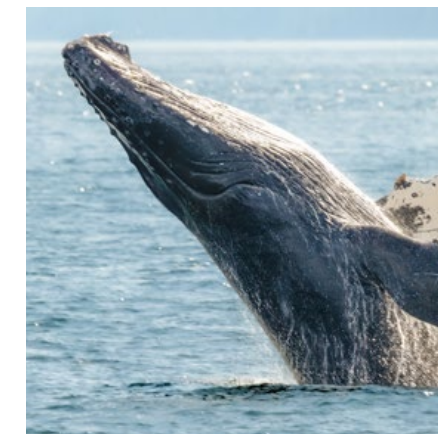

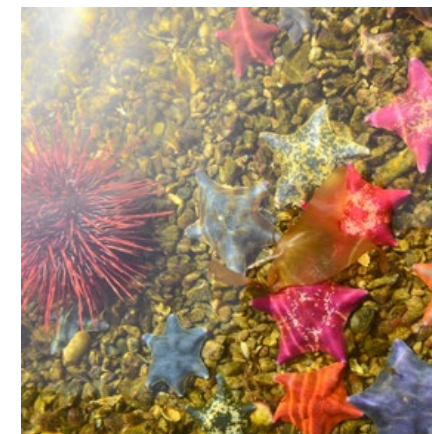

In this archipelago, sometimes known as “the boundary between worlds”, you’ll experience the meeting of North America’s ancient rainforest, ocean and charismatic wildlife, and the culture that has grown among them.

Situated on the continental shelf, the region is one of the planet’s most biologically productive. Among the hundreds of islands, the marine world is thick with fish, mammals and seabirds. Haida Gwaii has supported the powerful and artistic Haida culture for so long that nobody knows how far beyond the last ice age this history runs.

Our rich itinerary lets you fully experience this place of wonder: from the communities of the north island to Gwaii Haanas in the south; from ancient village sites to modern culture; from dense rainforest to sweeping beaches; from small beach shells to huge baleen whales and thousand-year-old cedars.

Special Features

- » Haida-guided interpretation, with additional free time, at modern and ancient Haida village sites, including UNESCO world heritage site SGang Gwaay (Ninstints).
- » A longer trip, with a week in the protected Gwaii Haanas region, lets you fully explore.
- » Naturalist walks in ancient rainforest, beachcombing, natural hot springs soak, wildlife colony visits, remote island explorations.
- » Unique exploration of northern Haida Gwaii highlights on our land day portion of the trip.
- » A seamless journey that builds in depth and camaraderie.
- » Local guides with 38 years’ of history operating here. On Cascadia, an additional Haida storyteller as crew.

DESTINATION | GREAT BEAR RAINFOREST

“Every day was an exciting one. We saw abundance of wildlife; humpback whales bubble-net feeding, eagles galore, grizzlies, black bears and low-and-behold a Spirit Bear fishing for salmon.

This trip exceeded all our expectations. I returned home with thousands of photographs and wonderful memories which I will cherish forever.”

- Sandra H., 2021

Awe and wonder with local guides, in one of Earth’s great wild places.

As one of the tour operators who originated ecotourism in the Great Bear Rainforest, we look forward to guiding you through a place we’ve fought for decades to protect. This land of fjords, mountains, rainforests, and great river estuaries is home to whales, grizzlies, wolves and the mysterious white Spirit Bear.

You’ll feel connected to the place, through the up-close experience of very small groups (8, 12, or 24) –ideal for the tight anchorages, forest trails and estuary meadows of this region—and our longstanding relationships with communities and researchers.

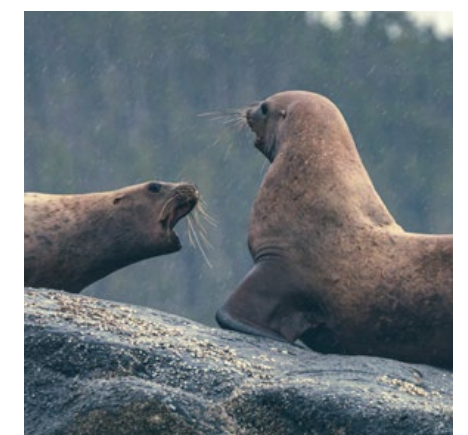

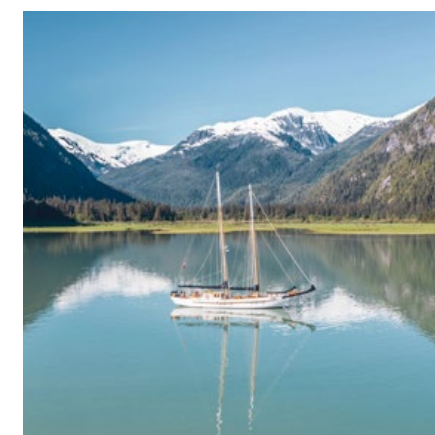

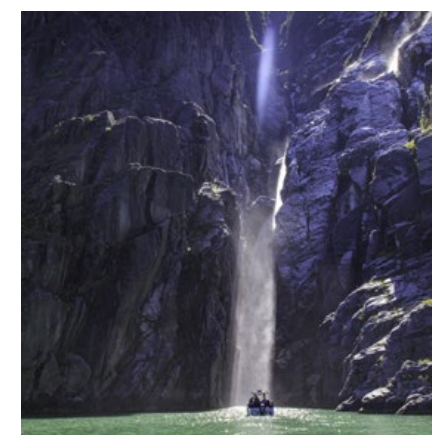

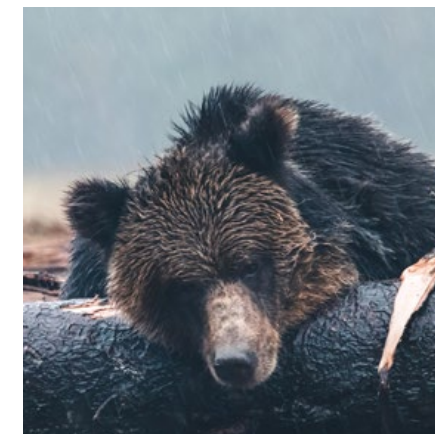

We operate with all exclusive permits and protocol agreements required to go ashore, view wildlife, and visit communities here.

Special Features

- » Cruising and exploring granite fjords, hidden passageways and quiet coves.
- » Opportunity to view grizzly bears, black bears and spirit bears in their natural habitat, with expert guides who grew up exploring the rainforest.
- » Seasonal highlights: wildflower meadows & grizzlies in spring, outer beaches, whales, seabirds and exploration in summer, salmon spawning and bears in autumn.
- » Whales and other marine mammals populate the protected waters; visit remote scientists who have discovered amazing things about the whales and other natural elements we see.
- » Ancient human history and modern First Nations culture with local hosts.
- » Exploring the ancient rainforest and natural hot springs.

OVERVIEW

“The Alaska Adventure cruise was one of the best experiences of my life. The most wonderful staff, delicious food, perfect weather and friendliest fellow passengers. Our naturalist Misty was so enthusiastic and knowledgeable that it enhanced all the wonderful wildlife viewings we had. It was way above 5 stars in every way and I will never forget it.”

- Susan M. 2022

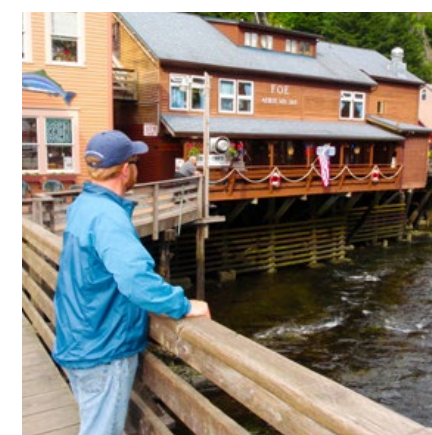

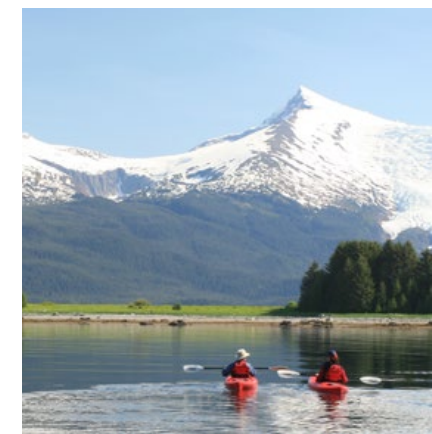

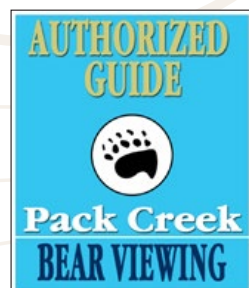

The ultimate Alaska itinerary.

Southeast Alaska breathes majesty: fjords, islands, rivers, and tidewater glaciers. Its rich, cold waters support abundant wildlife, from humpback whales to sea otters, sea lions, and millions of seabirds. The land supports towering rainforests and lush estuaries where brown bears, black bears and bald eagles feed. The towns evoke Alaska’s history – from Tlingit to American. On board a Maple Leaf boutique expedition cruise, your exploration of this overpowering wilderness differs significantly from the typical cruise ship experience.

You will be part of a very small group of guests who wish to experience Alaska by living and breathing its grandeur day after day, not by steaming past it at twenty knots.

Special Features

- » Intimate and up-close experience of Alaska’s ice world, with at least one day-long journey down a fjord to a calving glacier, plus zodiac ride or kayaking with naturalists among the ice bergs and local wildlife.
- » Special, hard-to-get access to the best brown bear viewing site in southeast Alaska, Pack Creek, with our expert bear guides.
- » Guided visits to historic Alaskan communities like Petersburg, Ketchikan and Sitka, as well as the hamlet of Baranof (possible hot springs).
- » Flexible daily itinerary to make the most of ad-hoc opportunities
- » Close encounters with whales and other marine mammals to observe and listen to their natural behavior in a respectful manner.
- » Rainforest walks, beach visits, and a sense of what it’s like to live in the nature of southeast Alaska.

Mediterranean islands and nature’s bounty in the Salish Sea.

Some people who visit the Gulf Islands think they’ve stumbled into paradise.

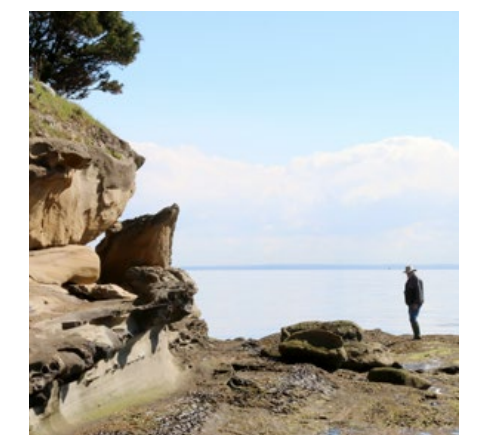

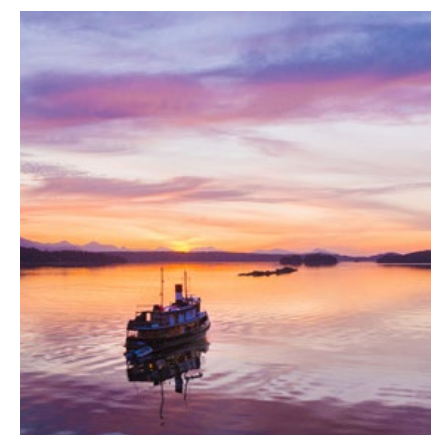

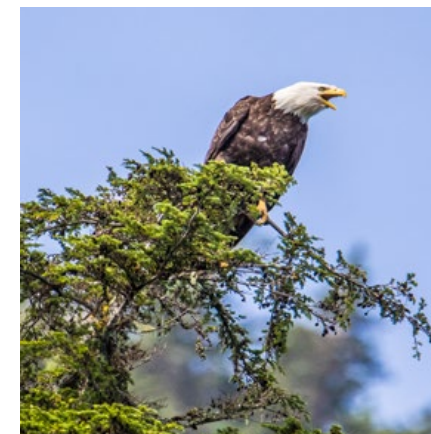

This group of hundreds of semi-Mediterranean islands in a protected sea has drawn people for millennia, with its green and gold slopes, blue ocean and ring of snow-capped peaks.

With 200+ islands and islets, some with “dry rainforests”, some with white shell beaches, some with colonies of animals, the options for exploring are many.

The Gulf Islands offer a combination of unique wilderness, eclectic communities, and deep human (First Nations) history. While you’ll visit some of the larger, well-known islands, you’ll also be guided to little-known havens to which most people will never have access. (Ever heard of Cabbage Island? How about Mandarte, Prevost and Wallace?)

Special Features

- » Island hopping in the calm Salish Sea, including off-the-beaten-track, natural islands and islets.
- » Beachcombing on a variety of beaches – white shell, sand, rocky.
- » Walks in forests, meadows and historic farmsteads. Flexible daily itinerary to make the most of ad-hoc opportunities.
- » Wildlife viewing (seabirds, sea lions, seals, possible porpoises and whales).
- » Historic site visits, from First Nations to Kanaka settlements, to modern outposts.
- » Cruising the scenic ‘back ways’ through the islands.

OVERVIEW

“An unbelievable experience with the most dedicated and involved crew I’ve ever experienced. Every day was ‘magical’. The bar for my next adventure now is high! A true way to tick off a bucket list item in such a successful way. Thanks so much to all the fabulous crew.”

- Chuck C., 2017

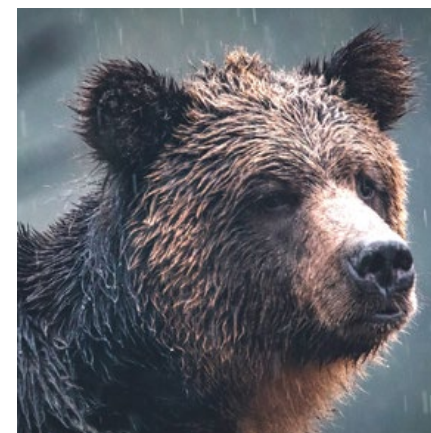

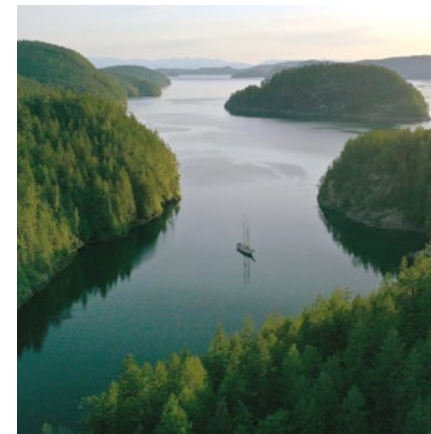

Access a spectacular mountain world through rural island water ways.

Sail beneath glaciated peaks, rainforested hillsides, and expansive waters that turn into secret coves you will explore.

While Desolation Sound is one of the world’s most popular cruising destinations, you will enjoy the area in a unique way: without the bustle of other boaters. By touring Desolation Sound and the Discovery Islands in “off peak” times—which are actually peak times for wildlife—you’ll enjoy the fjords, islands, wildlife, and forest trails in peace.

Special Features

- » Beautiful vistas of one of BC’s most breathtaking fjords.
- » Hikes from the beach, along rivers and waterfalls to BC’s warmest lakes.
- » Opportunities to view grizzly bears in spring and fall; in fall with our partners from the Klahoose Nation.
- » Whales and marine mammals (humpback whale, orca, sea lion, harbour seal)
- » Visit one of BC’s most prolific bird sanctuaries (Mitlenatch Island).
- » Natural foods foraging with your own private chef.
- » Combination of fjords, islands and intact rainforest with easy access to the start and end point on southern Vancouver Island.
- » Special Whale Science edition of Desolation Sound and Fjords of BC on Cascadia in 2024. Sail with Marine Education and Research Society (MERS) scientists whose research with humpback whales was recently featured on BBC’s Planet Earth III series.

“Some nights I hear whales in my dreams. Some nights I wake... and find it hasn't been a dream at all.” – Alexandra Morton

This is the “Serengeti of the sea”: rich in wildlife, home to a complex whale community, addictive cruising and ancient human cultures. It is the best place on earth to see killer whales and humpback whales. It is rich in seabirds, porpoises and other ocean life. On forested islands and on the water, humans have also thrived for millennia and this trip will introduce you to the ancient and modern First Nations culture.

Special Features

- » Watching and learning about whales and how they live, for hours in comfort, with our flexible itinerary and expert guides.
- » Visits to tiny coastal places such as the boardwalk community of Telegraph Cove, the historic Kwak-waka'wakw site at Village Island, and Alert Bay, a community that is home to the spectacular Kwak-waka'wakw cultural centre, U'mista.
- » Cruising intricate channels and island hopping, viewing seabirds and perhaps even a black bear swimming while under way
- » Rainforest walks and, time permitting, exploring the rich nature of a mainland inlet estuary.

Nature and culture in one of the world’s most diverse ecosystems.

Named the #1 island in continental US and Canada by Condé Nast Traveler readers, Vancouver Island offers everything from a historic small city, Victoria, to a remote peninsula whose ecosystems go back past the last ice age; from wildflower meadows and islands with cactus, to giant rainforest cedars next to long sand beaches swept by the Pacific ocean. Our Vancouver Island trips showcase this diversity, with unique journeys through nature and culture.

Special Features

Special Whale Science Expedition

Our partners at the Marine Education & Research Society, whose work contributed to parts of BBC's Planet Earth III, join us for an even deeper dive into the whales of BC. Participate in whale identification using photography, algorithms, and laser rangefinders. Look for whales practicing Trap Feeding behaviour, a discovery made by MERS scientists. Listen for humpback whales singing, as they do here in October. A portion of trip revenue goes to support MERS' work.

YOUR GUIDES AND CREW

The Soul of The Coast

Although our guests visit for the nature and culture, they say overwhelmingly that it was the crew that made their trips so special. Skilled and welcoming, each person is dedicated to sharing their knowledge to make a memorable trip for you.

You'll also meet other locals onshore—community leaders or elders, researchers, and other local guides.

Maple Leaf Adventures has been involved in important land-use, conservation and sustainable industry development on the coast for over 30 years. Our connections to what is happening on the ground and in government, as well as what is being discovered, run deep, bringing you access to special people and places.

About Maple Leaf

Maple Leaf is one of Canada’s most historic vessels and our flagship. Built in Vancouver in 1904 as a luxury racing yacht, she has a long history as both an elegant and tough ship, and is well-loved along the coast.

Maple Leaf is not only a beautiful work of art, she is a comfortable vessel at sea. She can take you to the coast’s wildest, remotest corners more comfortably and safely than most other vessels. Her sails and 40,000-pound keel keep her steady.

Epitomizing the spirit of adventure, Maple Leaf’s trips typically have the strongest camaraderie between guests and crew.

“The Swell has character, atmosphere and comfort. I think our cabin was the bees knees.”

- Travel Fan, TripAdvisor, 2019

About Swell

Swell is an authentic, coastal tugboat. Her small size and handsome character prove that great things come in a small package.

Her salon is both reading room and lodge dining room for meals. Her cabins are beautifully and lovingly decorated, but they are not hotel rooms. They are authentic, small boat cabins. This means the beds are non-standard sizes but are comfortable. There are door sills to step over to enter each cabin. So step aboard without thinking of cabins as hotel rooms, but rather as cozy cabins on a real heritage ship.

SCIENCE AND CONSERVATION

Your Trip Supports Our Conservation-Based Economy

By travelling with Maple Leaf, you are part of the important, emerging, conservation-based economy on the coast. We are a coast-owned and operated business, and 99% of the money from the trips stays within the coastal economy, providing meaningful and inspiring work that helps rather than hinders the coast.

Our ecotourism values inform all decisions we make. In addition, here are a few highlights from recent conservation action and support from our trips, crew and leadership.

- » Marine debris removal: In fall 2020 and spring 2021, Maple Leaf Adventures worked with our colleagues, our partners in several Indigenous nations, and the BC government to create and execute the largest-ever clean-up of marine debris on the BC coast, in the Great Bear Rainforest.
- » Bear research: Maple Leaf Adventures made a long-term commitment to fund part of a bear research and community stewardship program, operated by Raincoast and several Indigenous nations, in the Great Bear Rainforest. In coming years, stewards from this program will meet with our guests on trips.
- » Citizen science: Maple Leaf Adventures is expanding our ad-hoc citizen science program to develop a way for all guests in future to participate in providing valuable observations or research to scientists and government planners.
- » 1% For The Planet: 1% of revenues for the trips is donated to conservation on the entire coast, vetted by the 1% For The Planet audit team each year.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Eligibility

Anyone is eligible so long as they are: enthusiastic about participating; amenable to the vagaries of weather; agile enough to clamber in and out of shore vessels in an area where there are no docks, walk along an uneven shoreline, step over a raised door sill, and climb a short steep staircase; and friendly enough to get along in the relatively close quarters of a yacht. We have had people on board as much as 80+ years of age. However, our trips are not suitable for people of failing health or physical disabilities.

Dietary accommodation?

Yes. If you advise us in the pre-trip forms we can accommodate most dietary requirements.

Shore time – will I get ashore?

Yes—usually a few times a day. Each shore trip is usually between 1 and 3 hours in length.

I've never been on a boat – is that OK?

Yes. You are our guest and we will look after you.

Kayaks

You are welcome to paddle in the bays we anchor in.

Will I be seasick?

Sea sickness on our trips is rarely a problem as your trip is on a sturdy and sea-kindly ship. We travel short distances in protected waters and go ashore often.

Can I help sail?

Aboard our sailing ship you are welcome to lend a hand when we sail, but it is optional.

Operating history

We have been operating since 1986.

Solo Travel

Each year, a significant portion of our guests are solo travellers. As our crew are your comrades in adventure, you have between 4 and 10 other solo travellers already on every trip. From naturalists and expedition leaders who are with you on shore trips, to the other crew you share experiences with on board, you will find a wonderful camaraderie with crew -- and with the other guests.

On the Maple Leaf, there is no single supplement. If the trip fills, you will share with another single person of your own sex. On Swell and Cascadia there are several options: opt to share a cabin; have your own cabin on select trips for no single supplement (see Special Offers) or on other sailings have your own cabin for a 50% single supplement for a cabin (category 1 or 2 only).

The other guests

Our guests are people like you, who are interested in high quality experiences and in learning about the natural world and/or culture and enjoy the path less travelled.

HOW TO GET TO YOUR TRIP

Airport Access

Our BC and Alaska trips originate from ports along the coast that are serviced by regularly scheduled flights. In BC, all of these flights originate from Vancouver International Airport, in Vancouver, BC. If you are flying from outside the area, and you are wondering where you need to get to in order to connect to your trip, then Vancouver International Airport is the answer.

For Alaska, any air travel to or from Alaska goes via Seattle-Tacoma airport, in Washington State, USA.

You may like to consult our website (“How to Get to Here”) for a map showing these flights and ports.

We provide all of this information plus more detail and guidance in the Welcome Aboard package that you will receive upon booking your place with Maple Leaf. We are also happy to help any time!

Ferries

Ferries transport passengers between Vancouver and Victoria, Vancouver and Nanaimo, Port Hardy and Prince Rupert, Prince Rupert and Haida Gwaii, Seattle and Victoria, and Alaskan ports and Prince Rupert. Travelling by ferry requires careful planning and sometimes a car.

Driving

If you wish to drive to and/or from your trip, you may be able to. It’s best to email or phone us or your travel agent for further information.

Staying Beforehand or Afterward

Our Welcome Aboard packages lists some places you may wish to stay at before or after your trip.

Travel Agent

If you would like the assistance of a travel agent, we are happy to provide contact information for one who has worked with our guests.

Booking and Cancellation Policy

To avoid disappointment, your reservation should be made early. The number of participants in each program is limited, and the demand is high. Trips can sell out early.

Deposit: A deposit of one third of the price of the trip will reserve your space for any trip.

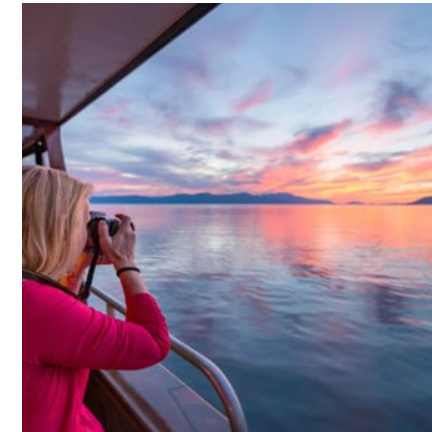

Balance: The balance is due 120 days prior to departure.

Payment methods: We accept Visa, Master Card, Discover, cheque, money order or bank transfer.

Cancellations: If you are unable to participate and cancellation occurs at least 120 days prior to the departure date of your trip, the full amount of your deposit is refundable, minus a $300 admin fee per person to cover costs we cannot recover. This $300 admin fee applies starting 72 hours after we receive your deposit payment. At 120 days prior to the trip start date, your fare is non-refundable. We highly recommend cancellation insurance. See next page for details.

Group Bookings: For large group bookings, such as a family charter of the entire ship, the booking and cancellation policy may be different – please contact us for information.

BOOKING YOUR ADVENTURE

Our All-Inclusive Package

- » All accommodation and warm hospitality on our boutique ships, and local lodges if your trip includes a lodge stay.
- » All shore trips, wildlife viewing, and zodiac excursions guided by our expert, knowledgeable crew, naturalist and guides.
- » All cultural site visits, and all additional local guides. All permits and fees.
- » All meals and snacks, freshly prepared by our chef. Meals offer great variety and highlight local specialties.
- » All beverages including coffee, tea, juices and sodas, filtered water, wine and craft beer. Note that alcohol is not a large focus of our trips.
- » Open wheelhouse. You are welcome in the ship’s wheelhouse, where your crew navigate the ship.

Additional fees not included in the price:

- » Transportation to the trip’s point of origin (unless booking with select special offers)
- » Goods and Service Tax (Canadian trips only, 5%)
- » Crew gratuities
- » Sustainability Fee of $200. As an ecotourism company, we work with local communities, and protect the environment. Responsible operations cost a little more. We extract from the fare a token amount of the increased costs that go towards sustainability to recognize this.

» For solo travellers booking a whole cabin on Swell or Cascadia, a 50% single supplement. (There is no single supplement on Maple Leaf.)

Cancellation Insurance

We highly recommend cancellation insurance, which protects you if you have to make a late cancellation in certain cases (such as a medical emergency). Cancellation and any needed medical insurance can be purchased through a travel agent. This should be done at the time your booking is nonrefundable.

Pre-Trip Information Package

We will send you a comprehensive Welcome Aboard package including information on how to get to your trip, what to wear and bring, and other tips. It also includes an online questionnaire and a passenger agreement. There is also a reading list, for those who like to do pre-trip reading.

Full Ship Charters

Charter an entire trip for your family and friends and share quality time without worrying about logistical details. Children are welcome on full ship charters. Contact us for details.

Note: Full ship charters require advance planning, as the trips are popular and once a trip has bookings, it can no longer be exclusively yours.

How to Book Your Trip

To book, we welcome your call or email. We complete bookings by telephone (contact details on reverse).

“I’ve lectured for Kevin and Maureen’s trips at Maple Leaf Adventures several times.

The intimate scale of their boats, with at most 24 guests, and their amazing staff and crew give you a very personalized experience of the northwest coast of North America.”

“They grew up here and they know it better than any other.”

- Wade Davis, anthropologist, author, explorer

About Maple Leaf Adventures

Maple Leaf has received the Parks Canada Sustainable Tourism Award for promoting the appreciation of Canada’s natural, cultural and aesthetic heritage, while also protecting them.

As a long time practitioner of ecotourism, Maple Leaf Adventures pioneered travel in BC’s Great Bear Rainforest and northwestern Vancouver Island, and has made significant contributions to conservation.

Our trips are operated by expert locals and recognize the traditional territory of coastal First Nations, with whom we work, through protocol agreements. National Geographic Adventure has rated Maple Leaf Adventures one of the “Best Adventure Travel Companies on Earth”.
